

The Research Center for Applied Linguistics POLIGLOCI and the Department of Applied Linguistics of the University of Rzeszów are pleased to invite students and PhD candidates to participate in the second edition of the international

Young Linguists' Conference

ATENA

which will be held online on 26 April 2022

via the Zoom platform.

As in the previous edition of our conference, we invite to participation students and PhD candidates who conduct research in the following disciplines:

- Linguistics
- Literature
- Language Didactics
- Cultural Linguistics
- Translation Studies

Additionally, we would like to inform you that during this year's edition of our conference a special attention will be paid to Translation Studies. Therefore, presentations and papers on the following topics are more than welcome this year: Interpreting Studies, Specialized Translation, Literary Translation, Translation Didactics, Intersemiotic Translation and other types of translation.

The aim of the conference is to promote scientific development of young researchers, to show the diversity of their studies, and to exchange the views and experiences.

Students interested in participating in the conference are invited to send abstracts (up to 300 words) to poligloci.atenaur@gmail.com to 22 March 2022. Due to the bilingual nature of the conference, there will be a possibility to give 15-minute presentations in both the English and German languages.

We cordially invite all participants to submit papers based on their presentations, as we are planning to publish the second edition of our online post-conference scientific monograph. The publication will include all papers that received positive reviews. Further information as well as editorial guidelines will be provided to all participants by e-mail in a later date.

In order to register your participation in the conference, please fill in the following proposal form: <https://forms.gle/7zDjZgvQYF2iKssA8>

Notifications of acceptance together with the account number to which the payment should be made will be sent by the Scientific Committee by e-mail to abstract submitting authors by 5 April 2022.

The conference registration fee is PLN60.00 (EUR15) for those interested only in giving presentation during the conference. For people interested in giving a presentation and submitting their paper in the post-conference scientific monograph, the conference fee is PLN100 (EUR25).

Certificates of participation will be sent to all participants both by e-mail (PDF file) and by traditional mail.

Should you have any questions regarding the conference, please feel free to contact us at the following e-mail address: poligloci.atena.ur@gmail.com
